Wedding Bells

MEAKINS-MURRAY
On Monday, April 21, at 2:00 p.m. in the Wainwright United church a very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Whelland when Miss Joan S. Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Murray, of Kindred, became the bride of Mr. Gordon K. Meakins, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Meakins of Jarrow. The church was decorated with spring flowers for the happy occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white satin made with a full over-skirt of net. The trapezoidal bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which came toilly points over the wrists. Her full train-length veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of red sweetheart roses. A gold locket was the bride's only jewelry.

Miss Jessie Murray, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. She wore a full length gown of light blue-sheer with headress to match. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. William R. Meakins, brother of the groom, was best man.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Meakins wore a dress in old rose with a corsage of red rose buds.

After the ceremony, twenty-one relatives and friends gathered at the groom's home to partake of a hearty luncheon. The table was centred by a three-tier wedding cake, baked by the groom's mother.

The newly-weds left on a honeymoon trip to Calgary and points west via Edmonton. On their return they will make their home on the groom's farm east of Jarrow.

Their many friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Meakins many years of happiness and prosperity.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were the Misses Cora and Jessie Murray, Mrs. B. Davis and Mr.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS HOSTS AT MEETING
On the evening of Wednesday, April 16, the teachers and officers of the Irma United church Sunday school acted as hosts to the parents of the Sunday school scholars at a meeting held in the church.

This gathering which was held with the purpose of strengthening the ties between the home and the Sunday school, was a big success. A good number of parents and friends were present.

The evening consisted of a singing conducted by Mrs. Inglis, devotionals by Mr. Reeds and a brief talk by the Rev. H. W. Inglis. This was followed by some vocal and instrumental numbers by Miss Summermon and Mrs. Locke. All present then repaired to the basement of the church where a few games were enjoyed. Lunch was then served.

Mr. Targett, on behalf of the visitors, thanked the Sunday school staff for a very enjoyable gathering, then closed by all singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The general opinion of all present was that church history had been made in Irma that night in this first get-together of parents and Sunday school teachers and officers. It is hoped the future will see many more of these meetings.

A National Outlook

A GREAT DEAL HAS BEEN HEARD in Canada in recent years concerning the need for strengthening the bonds of unity between the provinces and promoting the growth of a truly national outlook. In a country where distances are as great as they are here, and where the climate and the nature of the land vary greatly in different localities, it is to be expected that there should be a tendency towards sectionalism and that national problems should be more numerous than in a more compact country. It could not be said that there is any great degree of intolerance among the people of Canada today, nor that there is a serious lack of national unity. However, anything which can be done to destroy such intolerance as does exist, and to promote unity of thought and purpose should receive public encouragement and support.

Would Promote National Unity At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Canadian Teacher's Federation a resolution was passed asking the collaboration of the Canadian Education Association in establishing a teacher's certificate which would be acceptable to all the provinces. This motion will come up for consideration at the annual convention of the Canadian Teacher's Federation in Halifax next August. Miss Ethel Cappington of Saskatoon, president, said that the federation would like to see the establishment of a standard of teacher training high enough to meet the requirements of all the provinces. It would appear that such a move should do much to improve the standard of education throughout the country and to promote a broader outlook among both teachers and pupils. At the present time, because of the fact that teacher's certificates are acceptable only in the province in which they are issued, there is relatively little movement of teachers from one section of the country to another.

Education Is A Powerful Force There is no place where there is greater opportunity for planting the seeds of tolerance and understanding than in the school room, and standardization of teacher training should help to encourage a common viewpoint among Canada's future citizens. Many educationalists are of the opinion that efforts should also be made to eliminate the differences in curriculum between the school systems of the nine provinces. Such an undertaking would be beset by many difficulties, but like the standardization of teacher's qualifications it would undoubtedly do much to promote understanding and to further Canadian unity in the years to come. Education is a powerful force in the building of our nation. The people of Canada too little interest and support have been given to the building of proper schools and to such matters as the training of teachers and the provision of adequate salaries for them. We are now in what is called a period of reconstruction, and it would be well to give a share of our attention to education at this time, and to encourage any efforts which are made to increase the contribution which our schools make to the welfare of the nation.

SWEETER TASTIER White Bread

RECIPE

Put 1 c. lukewarm water in bread bowl, add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 tsp. sugar, stir; let stand 10 min. Scald 2 c. milk, add 5 tbs. sugar; add 5 tsp. salt; cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast with 1 c. water; add 6 c. sifted flour; beat well. Add 5 tbs. melted shortening and 6 c. more sifted flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead dough quickly and lightly until smooth and elastic. Place dough in greased bowl, cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch dough down in bowl; let rise again until about $\frac{3}{4}$ as high as first rise. When light, divide into 4 equal portions; shape into balls. Cover with cloth; let rest 10 to 15 min. Shape into loaves; place in greased bread pans. Cover; let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in 425° F. oven for 15 min., then reduce heat to 375° F. Finish baking about 30 min. longer.

MOUNTED POLICE SEEKING BANDSMEN FOR MUSICAL RIDE

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police is reviving its musical-ride feature and Inspector J. T. Brown, director of music, is on a recruiting mission to bring the R.C.M.P. band to authorized strength of 46 musicians.

Practices for the musical ride have already started at Rockcliffe Barracks after a call had been issued for volunteers for the "team" from the personnel of the force. A full complement of candidates has been obtained and both men and horses are already in training. The post-war revival of the ride will mean the return of the feature of a number of exhibitions and horse shows later this year. The R.C.M.P. band is slated to make a number of appearances at fairs in both Canada and the United States.

FOOD RIOT IN DUSSELDORF

A food riot is being staged by 100,000 in Dusseldorf, one of the most heavily bombed cities in Germany. It is not an uncommon sight to see soup lines or a child, such as the one above, begging for food on the streets. British tonies were booted and a military car was overthrown in the lake by the mob which gathered in a public park to protest the lack of food. The daily ration is far below the Canadian standard.

SELECTED RECIPES

PIE CRUST HELPS

For each 2-crust pie allow:
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt
7/8 cup cold shortening
1 1/2 cup cold water (about)

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together into bowl. Cut in shortening until pieces are about the size of small peas. Use two knives or a wire pastry blender for this.

Add water, a small amount at a time, mixing lightly with a fork. Press into a ball. Cover and chill before rolling.

Roll out on a lightly floured board to 1/8-inch thickness. Bake pastry in a hot oven (450 deg. F.). Makes enough for one 9-inch 2-crust pie or two 9-inch shells.

1. Keep pastry cold if you want it flaky.

2. Handle and roll as little as possible.

3. Roll lightly, using as little flour as possible. Roll from the centre of the dough out and up—not back and forth. Let the rolling pin do the work.

4. If you can, use pastry cloths over the board and rolling pin. These hold the rolled pastry flat and lessen the amount of flour and rolling needed.

5. Try making unbaked pie shell the day before filling and baking. Pastry will be more crisp.

6. You can make up 2-crust pies ahead of time and bake them fresh for evening or even on the next day.

SEASON FOR DUCK HUNTING MAY BE SHORTENED THIS FALL

OTTAWA.—Canadian hunters will be able to go duck-hunting this fall despite a National Audubon society proposal in Washington for a one-year moratorium on hunting of migratory fowl in North America.

However, officials of the wild life protection division, mines and resources department, warn that the duck situation is becoming "rapidly worse."

The season "probably" will be shorter than last year and the "bag" reduced.

The department is awaiting reports on the winter's bird survey, upon which to base the quotas and length of season for 1947. Annual regulations are announced in July.

In January, 1946, there were an estimated 80,000,000 ducks in Canada compared with 105,000,000 for the corresponding period of the previous year. During the war when hunters were few, the duck population jumped to 140,000,000.

Last year's count of geese in Canada was approximately 1,500,000, a drop of some 500,000 from 1945.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

"GYPSY GOLD"

By LILLIAN M. MITCHELL

"GOSH, Julie! You are easy—giving that gypsy gal a five dollar bill for that 'Gypsy gold'! If that's gold, I'm a busy blonde. But if it should turn the trick, let me have it next, eh?"

Julie Davis nodded. "I didn't buy it from the gypsy. I just crossed her palm with gold—and that in the old days would have been five dollars. But it won't do all the work. She said to do all I could myself and then leave the rest to gypsy gold. Well, me, I'm going downstairs to the drug store and buy a big bottle of perfume and Anthony—he does like fragrance, Cordia. Men do."

"Sure. Men do. Even rich fellows like Anthony who waste three years of a gal's time. I give up. He likes you. He has plenty to marry on. But maybe you've let things drag. A girl has to help some, you know."

Julie looked out the office window. "Yes. I've just waited. Of course it wouldn't be any use to run after Anthony. He wouldn't have one of those bold girls. But me—I haven't done a thing to get him to the point. I'm going out this noon, Cordy, and get a big bottle of the May Dawn perfume and a new hat and new gloves and shoes and a snippy little collar and cuff set—"

"Say! You're going to spend all your savings?" asked Cordelia.

"I am, Cordy. I'm going to make every effort myself and leave it to gypsy gold to do the rest just as the gypsy girl told me."

At five that night Julie was prompt in leaving the office. Because it was raining, the other girls all stayed at their desks a few minutes to put everything in order. Julie, though, tripped gaily out of the elevator and towards the magazine counter of the office building entirely aware of her new coat and shoes and gloves, her nose well aware of the expensive perfume that surrounded her like an aura.

"You don't look like it the weather had you 'drenched', Julie," Anthony greeted her in amazement. "You've been the only smiling face to come out of any elevator in the ten minutes I've been waiting. Kind of doped up, aren't you? Want a cab?"

But as usual on rainy nights, no cab was to be had and so, shoulder to shoulder, they walked along cheerily until they came to a sidewalk grating that permitted a basement fan to get air. The heels of the new shoes slid unexpectedly between two of the metal strips.

"Ooo-o-oh!" screamed Julie. Anthony, both arms about her firmly, held her upright. "I have you, Julie. You're not hurt, are you? You didn't turn your ankle?"

Julie shook her head and stood her ground firmly, her eyes searching down in that dark space beneath the sidewalk grating. "I'm all right but I lost my gypsy gold piece," she said disconsolately.

He laughed. "Well, if that's all you lost, that's nothing!"

"Nothing?" she eyed him wide-eyed. "Nothing? Why Tony, it's everything, that gold piece. It's gypsy gold, Tony."

"Well, there's no way of getting down in there to get it, Baby. This grating is in for keeps and there's no opening in the basement except the ventilator fan. Come on."

Julie shook her head stubbornly. "I'll have to get down and fish it out again, Tony. I—I just have to get my gypsy gold."

Obliquely he got down on all fours and peered down into the dark hole. He borrowed an umbrella from a passerby and poked the glittering gold piece this way and that fruitlessly. Then the passerby with a glance at his watch said he must get along and Anthony returned the umbrella.

"Come on, Julie," he said coaxingly. "We can't get the thing out. It's in there for keeps. Come on, dear."

Julie only shook her head. "I—I paid five dollars for it, Tony. That is, I didn't really pay five dollars but I crossed the gypsy's hand with gold before she gave it to me. I—I have to have it, Tony."

"Well, great suffering cats!" he exploded turning up his coat collar, "if this thing was so darned valuable to you, why didn't you put it into your handbag instead of carrying it out loose in your glove! And such slippery gloves, too!"

"Glace," murmured Julie softly, her eye seemingly glued to the gold piece below.

"Mister, we'll get the thing if you'll give us a half dollar for the job," said two newboys.

"Go to it, kids," said Anthony heartily. "I'll make it a dollar if you're done in five minutes."

Speedily the boys thrust chewing gum into their mouths, grinning at each other they put the damp gum on the end of a long stick and poked.

"You're a useless little thing," Anthony said huskily to Julie as they waited and watched.

She turned her eyes up to his. "Gee, you're a honey," he told her. "You smell so sweet and fragrant and you're such a little useless—losing that gold piece like that! What you need, Baby, is someone to look after you and your possessions. Suppose I hadn't been here now? Julie, Baby, are you going to give me the job?"

"What job?" she asked him gently.

"Of being your husband and looking after everything for you," he murmured.

She nodded meekly at the same moment the little boys handed Anthony the gold piece. He gave them a dollar and looked curiously at the gypsy gold.

"That girl sure skinned you, Baby," he told her. "This is just brass, common brass."

She held out her hand for it smiling. "Gypsy gold it was, Tony. Baby, I didn't know I was getting it for her! I never especially liked her anyhow. I thought I was getting it for you, Baby. What's that? You don't need it? Well, girls are certainly hard to understand, I'll say. There's only one thing that is easy to understand and that is, you need me to take care of you, Julie. When do I get the job, eh?"

And Julie, blissfully unaware that the new coat was damp and the pretty collar set already crumpled, looked up at him; the fragrant odor of May Dawn still clinging to her as if its work was yet to be done instead of already accomplished.

Northern Airports Will Be Valuable

Only yesterday it seemed that places like Southampton Island, Frobius Bay, Goose Bay and Gander, were destined always to remain lonely outposts, to be reached from "outside" only during the brief summer. But tomorrow—sooner than we think—they may be division points along one of the world's main traffic routes. While these northern airports are certainly no bargain just now from a commercial point of view, they are far from valueless national assets even today. And they may well become self-liquidating in the commercial sense before many years pass.—Winnipeg Tribune.

JUST A LITTLE TOO MUCH ISLAND FALLS, Man. — Andre Laurin, a fisher and trapper in the district for many years, discovered the ordeal of getting married was too much for him. He uttered the words that changed him from bachelor to benedict and then fainted in the arms of the bride and the best man.

Badghiz (home of winds) is a district in northwest Afghanistan.

Maple Syrup Yield Best In Years

If you like lots of maple syrup on your pancakes (and who does not) you may be able to apply it more liberally this year. Now that the sap is running again in the maple sugar bushes of Ontario, there are early signs that the yield will be the best in years.

A Canadian Press survey shows that production in 1947 may come close to that of pre-war years when Ontario produced an average of 580,000 gallons annually in the five-year period, 1935-39, then slipped to a low of 124,000 gallons in 1945. Last year the total was 236,000 gallons.

Total production this year may be between 400,000 and 450,000 gallons, said an Ontario department of agriculture official. He also told the Canadian Press: "Your guess is as good as mine."

Duck Quite Duckie

OTTAWA.—Ever hear of personality keeping a duck out of the roasting pan? That's the life history of Dickie, web-footed pet of Mr. and Mrs. Syvend Gilberg of Ottawa.

The Gilberts bought Dickie in the summer of 1939 with the idea of fattening him up for a Sunday roast later in the winter. But they didn't count on Dickie's personality.

Dickie's learned to caress the boss with his beak, to swim with the Gilberts children and to purr when they rubbed the back of his neck. He even got himself housebroken.

An early Roman writer tells how the Gauls of France made soap with tallow and wood ashes.

CUT OUT TEA → AND COFFEE → CUT OUT TEA → AND COFFEE

DRINK POSTUM → INSTEAD

Perhaps this happened to you when your doctor, or some wise friend, told you it would be a good idea to cut out tea and coffee...

But if someone says "Drink Postum instead", that really rings a bell!

Yes—Postum is a grand way to stop drinking tea and coffee if the caffeine in those beverages upsets your nerves, keeps you awake.

You can drink Postum any hour of the day or night—enjoy as much as you like, as strong as you like—and not miss a wink of sleep. Postum contains no caffeine, nor any other drug—can't affect heart or nerves or digestion.

Make Postum right in the cup, just by adding boiling water or hot milk. Costs less than 1¢ a serving.

Any Pots,
Any Pans,
Any Kettles Today?

You heard the clash of his tinware long before the tinkler arrived. It was an exciting moment in pioneer country; but that was long ago, and nowadays, when a store goes to its customers, it does it another way. Instead of a rattle of pans, there is a rattle of pages. Instead of a covered wagon there are the resources of a mighty organization. Finally, where the old-time peddler clanked over the horizon, leaving his wares to stand or fall on their own merits, EATON'S gives his guarantee with all its merchandise:

S. L. Mackey has sold his jewelry business and premises to Mr. Joe Baer of Edmonton, who expects to take over this week. Mr. Mackey asks all those who have watches at the jewelry store to come and get them.

A new front has been added to the Viking Service Station. A temporary office for the Alberta Lumber Co. is being erected on lots south of the Farmers' Meat Market. We understand the lumber company is intending to build new premises this summer.

Mike Johnson, after being in the local hospital for some weeks, left last week to make his home in Vancouver.

The Killam players are presenting their comedy "For Pete's Sake" at the Community hall, Viking, on Wednesday, April 30, sponsored by the Viking C.W.L.

GROW FLAX!

"There's money in a weed-free crop at $5.00 per bushel"

Flax cannot fight weeds and a profitable crop depends largely on successful weed control. But weeds are no Problem IF YOU KILL THEM WITH

"SINOX" SELECTIVE WEED KILLER

Here is what the National Flax Committee say about "SINOX"

"Is spraying advised?"
"YES — Tests indicate that the use of "SINOX" may increase yields three to four bushels per acre."

— Kills the weeds
— Saves the crops.

FLAX GROWERS!

You cannot afford to do without "SINOX". It is your protection and assurance of a better Flax Crop.
